Mrs. Oliver Entertains
With Elaborate Luncheon
 (Valdosta Times.)

A delightful planned event of yesterday was the 1 o'clock luncheon which Mrs. William Maxwell Oliver gave at the Valdes in honor of Miss Willis, whose marriage to Mr. Edwin Broughton Branch will be an event of early April.

Mrs. Oliver's guests included the four brides of April and those entertaining for Miss Willis.

A long table was beautifully arranged in the private dining room of the Valdes with places for ten; its centerpiece was a long-handled basket of fragrant Easter lilies whose delicate whiteness was enhanced by a huge bow of pink maline. Long stemmed Easter lilies and Killipry roses reached from centerpiece to the four corners of the table, which held pink shaded tapers, burning brightly. Mints in cut glass baskets were prettily arranged.

An eight-course luncheon was served, each detail carrying out the color scheme of pink and white. The ice course was especially attractive, as the cream was in the shape of a pair of slippers and the cakes were topped by a pair of pink hearts.

Those present were Miss Willis, Miss Harriet Converse, Miss Onasley Miss Johnson, Miss Lucy Twitty, Miss Ashley, Miss Ruth Converse, Miss Anna Ashley and Mrs. C. W. Barnes.

In Memoriam.

On Tuesday afternoon February 24th, the death angel came and took from us our dear sister, Mrs. C. W. Lee. She was a member of the Brooklet Baptist church and a devoted Christian.

She leaves a husband, two daughters and a number of friends to mourn; but let us not mourn as those without hope but in full confidence of a happy reunion in our Father's house. She was born February 12th 1866, and let us remember that she cannot come to us, but we can go to her; and may our loss be her eternal gain. That we extend our heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved family.

"UNCLE IRVING" TALKS OF OUR NATIONAL LEADERS

ENDORSES WORK OF WILSON, SMITH AND EDWARDS

EDITOR BULLOCH TIMES:

I want to ask space in your paper to say a few words in behalf of our leaders in national matters, Woodrow Wilson, Hoke Smith, and Charlie Edwards. The Bible says that "When the wicked rule, the people mourn, but when the righteous rule the people rejoice." I want to say that there has never been a time since the civil war when the people of the south were so prosperous and contented. All of this is not to be attributed to our statesman and leaders, of course, but they are entitled to their share of the credit for present conditions.

His opponents are criticizing Charlie Edwards for sending seed to the farmers throughout this district, but I want to say that he has not only been sending out the garden and vegetable seed, but has been sowing seed of love and kindness among his constituents throughout his entire term in office. He will reap those seed when the harvest time comes, and it will come in the election for congressmen comes this summer. He is always at his post attending to his duty, and the people will show their appreciation by keeping him where he is. I hope to see him remain in his place for many years yet to come, and the people will do themselves credit to keep him there.

ANDERSON BEGINS TO WAGE CAMPAIGN

OPENS HEADQUARTERS AND WILL SOON ISSUE ANNOUNCEMENT

Savannah, Ga., April 11.—Hon. J. Randolph Anderson, the South Georgia candidate for governor, has opened his headquarters here and is preparing to make a very active canvass for the place. He has abandoned all idea of running for the state senate. Just as soon as Governor Slaton makes his formal announcement as a candidate for the United States senate Mr. Anderson will make his announcement for governor.

There is much speculation here as to how Mr. Anderson will treat the question of prohibition in his announcement. It is expected he will take the position that the prohibition law is on the statute books and that he will take an oath as governor, if elected, to enforce that law and all the laws. In other words, prohibition is not to be an issue in the coming campaign. Mr. Anderson will be on the prohibition question just as Bryan was on the financial question the last time he ran for president. He will look upon the matter as having been settled and of no interest in the campaign.

Mr. Anderson is receiving a great many letters every day. The writers are giving him all the support possible. With Mr. Vereen out of the race for governor, Mr. Anderson thinks that south Georgia will have a splendid opportunity to solidify or one candidate.

Mr. J. B. Williams, Trenton, Ga., gives a splendid endorsement to a reliable honest medicine when he says: "I contracted a deep cold and coughed with terrible violence, but Foley's Honey and Tar gave me relief at once, and my cough and cold were soon gone. I prefer it, too, because it contains no opiates." Sold by Bulloch Drug Co.—Adv.

Just be sure that you buy Foley's Honey and Tar Compound for coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough, bronchitis and all grippe coughs. P. H. Ginn, M.D., of Boston, says: "Last winter my children had bad colds and croup. Foley's Honey and Tar gave instant relief and they were soon cured." It contains no opiates. Lawton Shot Owens

Clarence Lawton, a negro living in the vicinity of Mr. E. S. Woods, in the Blitch district, was arrested Tuesday and lodged in the jail charged with assault with intent to murder Lewis Owens, also colored.

The shooting occurred Saturday night and is claimed by Lawton to have been accidental. At last reports the wounded man was in a serious condition, with only slight hope for his recovery.

Please Return.

WILL POSTPONE SPRING TERM SUPERIOR COURT

PETITION TO THAT EFFECT SENT TO JUDGE RAWLINGS

Announcement is authorized by Judge Rawlings that there will be no April term of the superior court. The postponement was agreed to by Judge Rawlings upon a petition by the members of the Statesboro bar. The petition was forwarded to the Judge the first of the week. It is recited that the torn up condition of the court house while the improvements are being made, will interfere with the convenience of the members of the bar and it is desirable not to be in the court at the present time. Among these reasons is the fact that at least four of them are candidates for office in the county, and believe their time can be employed to advantage out in the highways among the voters.

"BLOODY MONDAY" WITH

THE COLORED POPULATION

BLOOD OF THE CRIMSON VARIETY

FLOWED IN PROFUSION

Crimson blood of the dark red kind flowed in profusion in Statesboro Monday night, following a party at the colored Odd Fellows' hall. Just how it all happened has not been fully explained, though a partial explanation was offered in the mayor's court Tuesday morning, following which Marion Zetter was fined $5 for disorderly conduct and bound over to the city court. Marion was implicated in opening the veins of Ed Dixon, Ed showed his face and neck in the court, and they furnished conclusive evidence that there had been a knife or some other sharp instrument playing hide-and-seek in his anatomy. It was admitted that there was a disagreement between the two, but just who was at fault was not clearly developed.

The other blood-shedding has not yet been solved, though the victim, Sylvanus Edwards, is even more seriously hurt than the Dixon negro. Sylvanus states that he was attacked on the back porch of the J. P. Williams residence, of which he is care-taker, about dark and that he does not know who were his assailants. He was stabbed about the body and neck, and Tuesday was reported as in almost a dying condition. Later he rallied, however, and is now thought to be on the road to recovery. Edwards is a quiet negro and is highly esteemed by the white people of Statesboro. The reason for the attack upon him is a mystery.

"HER GLOVES"
A Farce Comedy in Three Acts, by Anthony E. Willis, will be played by the Statesboro Dramatic Club Thursday, April 30th, at school auditorium; performance to begin promptly at 8:15.
Cast of characters:
Walter Dillingham, a dealer in real estate—H. D. Meyer.
Jefferson Ruggles, his father-in-law—Walter Johnson.
Robert Slocum, a friend of the family—Edwin Groover.
Charley Brooks, a neighbor—Hubert Jones.
Jim Ryan, a theatrical manager—Herbert Kingery.
Mrs. Ruggles, wife of Jefferson—Wilhel Parker.
Blanch Dillingham, wife of Walter—Lucy Blitch.
Dora Ruggles, in love with Slocum—Ruth Lester.
Elizabeth Brooks, wife of Charley—Marybeth Smith.
Valeska Bijon, a leading lady—Annie Oliff.
As indicated by the cast of characters that are to be impersonated, the close domestic and social relationship that are "supposed" to exist, where the name HOME would be supposed to be magnified to where it means all that it should and then some, where LOVE, confidence and harmony is dispensed graciously and abundantly by all, with no thought of what your neighbor's husband, wife, son or daughter was doing or cared less, only that they are "just neighbors," even though you never knew them, just know they are splendid people since you don't know them at all—until something happens. One has to close their eyes and draw on their imagination to see what would happen when some one or two of this "domestic circle of bliss" makes one unusual trip for ONE day and at close of this eventful day, or perhaps, several hours after the close, are unable to explain ALL the happenings and to the satisfaction of all concerned, or to add to the demand it. Individually, they are all paragons of truth, but collectively—well, hear them and draw your own conclusions.

The old adage that there is no love without jealousy may or may not be true. There are many who love and are loved because of the fact that there is. It is also a known fact to some that the ones that boast of this are capable of displaying more than belongs to an entire community with less provocations than Mrs. Dillingham showed on this occasion. Let that be as it may, if there is love without jealousy it will be understood that Mrs. Ruggles, Brooks, Miss Ruggles and Bijon are only playing a part. On the other hand, if there can not be true love without it, it will prove without contradiction that the ladies in this cast do, or can, love as true as any Juliette that ever spooned across a window sill.
Remember the date—Thursday, April 30th; place, school auditorium, Statesboro; time, 8:15; prices, 50c and 35c. Be on hand early and get the choice seats.
Special musical interpolations by two or more members of the cast between first and second acts. This music has been specially arranged for the play and will be a feature well worth while.
It was one of these small acts of his that grew to such proportion that it overshadowed all that he had done in the past that would have made him eligible to a small consideration and magnified his undesirable qualities in the sight of the "Old Man" and branded him a traitor of the stamp and mould of a Benedict Arnold, made the remotest spot in darkest Africa seem a paradise compared to this domestic battleground where neither side knew when it was whipped and time the only doctor to attend the wounded.
To the intimate friends of Walter Dillingham (H. D. Meyer) he would seem him impossible for him to tell a lie, even for the sake of keeping peace. Possessing as he does, a stricter regard for the truth than the Father of Our Country, that of being able to tell a lie and refusing to do so. It would not be fair to copy the impression here that Harold is a liar, far be it from such but it is his ability to qualify as such with the able assistance of Jefferson Ruggles (Walter Johnson) and Charley Brooks (Hubert Jones) should the occasion

CLAXTON, GA., Apr. 14, 1914.
To the Editor of the BULLDOCH TIMES:
Please allow space in your paper for a brief reference to the Indian people of Bulloch county, a colony of whom are located near Claxton. We believe in agriculture, education and all enterprises that tend to lift a people to a higher standard of progressiveness, intelligence and Christian character.
We highly appreciate the appropriation which the county school board has granted our school. We had the pleasure of meeting with the board in behalf of the school recently and found them to be a most kindly set of gentlemen and we were given every consideration. We might mention as taking special interest in our welfare Mr. Nevils, and the chairman of the board. Through their kindness we were allowed an appropriation of $25 per month. The patrons of the school pay the remaining amount sufficient to maintain the school.
While the county school superintendent is making his rounds of visitation upon the schools of the county, we shall be pleased to have him make it convenient to call upon the little band of humble Indians and inspect our school; and the visits of any others who may feel a friendly interest in us will be appreciated. The school is doing nicely and has a good attendance; nearly all the children of our community are attending.
With best wishes to the TIMES.

WAR WITH MEXICO SEEMS NEVITABLE
MARINES SIEZE VERA CRUZ AFTER BRIEF STRUGGLE
As a first step toward what may yet lead to actual war between the United States and Mexico, Admiral Fletcher, with a force of 3,000 marines, took possession of the city of Vera Cruz, Mexico, Tuesday afternoon, by order of the president. This step was taken because of the refusal of General Huerta to make proper amends for repeated insults to the United States. The taking of the city is reported to have resulted in the loss of four marines and twenty wounded. Nearly 150 Mexicans were killed. American forces are now in possession of the city of Vera Cruz.
Resolutions have been passed by congress sustaining the demands of the president for redress. These resolutions disclaim intention to engage in war with Mexico, and expressly hold Huerta and his followers responsible for the insults complained of.
Latest indications are that the warring factions of Mexico may unite in repelling the United States, and grave fears are felt that war with the entire country will eventually follow.

HOW WAR NEWS WAS RECEIVED IN STATESBORO
INTEREST IS KEEN IN DEVELOPMENTS IN MEXICO
The very keenest interest is felt in Statesboro in the Mexican situation and every bit of information with regard to developments is grasped with eagerness. The news of the first conflict, under which Vera Cruz was taken, was received Tuesday afternoon, and came from Congressman Edwards from Washington.
The telegram, which was received here at 5:20 o'clock, read as follows:
"Washington, D. C., April 21.—Telegram received that war is inevitable. News just received that United States troops have captured Vera Cruz."
The telegram posted at the post office was soon the center of interest and the intelligence of the conflict spread rapidly throughout the city. Statesboro people are almost unanimous in their approval of the attitude of the administration, and confidence is felt that an early and satisfactory ending of the trouble will be reached.

Dodson's Liver Tone is a strictly vegetable liquid, containing nothing harmful. It not only leaves no bad effects, but works easily and naturally, without pain or gripe and without interfering at all with your regular habits, diet or occupation. A trial may benefit you greatly; why not see about it today?

CONGRESSMAN EDWARDS' Formal Announcement
Early Saturday morning most of the pupils of the Institute and many townspeople rode to Metter in a special train to witness the first district high school meet. Blue and white colors were seen in abundance, and noise was a big part of the program.
On reaching Metter the school gave many yells and then "took in the town."
At 10 o'clock the contest began. It was a splendid contest and the judges had some mighty hard decisions to make. The spelling contest went for four rounds, Geo. S. Kimball, of Statesboro, winning. In the ready writer's contest we came second, Kimball being the representative in this, also. A large crowd witnessed the music, voice, recitation and declamation contests. Statesboro won the voice medal with Annie Blitch Parrish as contestant. George Parrish came third in boy's declamation.
Statesboro "just picked up" medals in the athletic contests, winning the potato race (John Zetterower), chinling pole (Albert Quattlebaum), standing broad jump (Clarke Sims), relay race (John Zetterower, Cliff Fordham, Tom Denmark and Clark Sims). Statesboro won second place in running broad jump (Tom Denmark) and 100-yard dash (Cliff Fordham), making a total of ten medals. That is a fine record and one that the school is justly proud of. Hurray for Statesboro!
On arriving home Saturday night a parade was given from the depot to the Walnut tree, and there the children announced how many medals they won.
All enjoyed the trip and are looking forward to next year, when we meet at Metter.
A good, wholesome enthusiasm that has a stimulating effect on the stomach, liver and bowels is Foley's Cathartic Tablets. E. J. Hudson, Chambliss, Ga., says: "It is a perfect cathartic and my customers are highly pleased with them. They always satisfy beyond their expectation." Try them. Sold by Bulloch Drug Co.—Adv.
